Native families have a long history of saving. Your family may have saved seeds for future planting, meat for the winter, dance regalia for younger children, and money to pay for education.

What would you like to save for in the future?

Where is The Seat of Your Tribal Government Located?

On this map of Oklahoma, place a star by the seat of your tribal government (this is where your tribal leaders meet and your tribal offices are located).

Supporting Our Tribal Governments and Communities

As your tribal government will be in this place for years and years, how can you help to keep your community strong?
Native families may think about assets as not just being money. Assets are what we value. We might also think about assets as being education, family, homes, sovereignty, land, Native languages, and spirituality.

Below, you are welcome to draw pictures of important assets to you.
